

Dietetic management and pancreatic cancer, 03/12/2025

Jeni Jones – Specialist Pancreatic Cancer Nurse, Pancreatic Cancer UK

Jeni has been nursing for 32 years and has spent the past seventeen years working in cancer care, including the care of people with pancreatic cancer. She has worked in the areas of chemotherapy, palliative care and clinical trials and is experienced in providing support to patients, families, and friends.

Lauren Roberts - Lead HPB Oncology Dietitian, The Clatterbridge Cancer Centre, Liverpool

Lauren is a Specialist HPB Oncology Dietitian at The Clatterbridge Cancer where she has worked for the last 10 years. A large proportion of her clinical workload is working with patients with pancreatic cancer before, during and after oncology treatment. With colleagues, she is currently delivering an early dietetic intervention pathway which has been funded for 12 months, through cancer alliance, enabling patients with a HPB cancer diagnosis, earlier and frequent dietetic support and nutrition intervention. She enjoys patient and HCP education through talks and webinars e.g. PCUK and enjoys writing for national nutrition magazines on oncology related topics. She is currently conducting an audit looking at micronutrient deficiencies and management of these in patients with non-resectable pancreatic cancer. In her spare time, she enjoys cooking, socialising with friends and long walks when she is not running around looking after her two young sons, husband and dog (which is 99.9% of the time)!
